- 12.1 There are various grounds upon which Aon may or must refuse a Request for Access to a Record in accordance with Chapter 4 of PAIA. They are:
 - 12.1.1 the protection of Personal Information of a third person (who is a natural person, including a deceased person) from unreasonable disclosure (section 63 of PAIA);
 - 12.1.2 the protection of commercial information of a third party if the Records contain trade secrets, financial, commercial, scientific or technical information that may harm the commercial or financial interests of a third party (section 64 of PAIA);
 - 12.1.3 refusing access to a Record if disclosure would result in the breach of a duty of confidence owed to a third party (section 65 of PAIA);
 - 12.1.4 refusing access to a Record if it would jeopardise the safety of an individual or prejudice or impair certain property rights of a third person (section 66 of PAIA);
 - 12.1.5 refusing access to a Record that was produced during legal proceedings, unless that legal privilege has been waived (section 67 of PAIA);
 - 12.1.6 refusing access to a Record containing trade secrets, financial or sensitive information or any information that would put the Private Body at a disadvantage in negotiations or prejudice it in commercial competition (section 68 of PAIA);
 - 12.1.7 refusing access to a Record containing information about research being carried out or about to be carried out on behalf of a third party (section 69 of PAIA).
- 12.2 Section 70 of PAIA contains an overriding provision. 13 Protection of Personal Information that is processed by Aon

13.1 Conditions for Lawful Processing

Chapter 3 of POPIA sets out the Conditions for Lawful Processing of Personal Information which must be complied with when a Responsible Party Processes Personal Information. Below is a description of the eight Conditions for Lawful Processing as contained in POPIA:

b) Processing limitation

The Processing must be done lawfully and in a manner that does not infringe the right to privacy of a Data Subject. Personal Information may only be Processed if, given the purpose for which it is Processed, it is adequate, relevant and not excessive. There must furthermore be a justification for Processing Personal Information. Consent is one of the justifications, but Personal Information may be Processed in the absence of consent if it is necessary for pursuing the legitimate interests of the Responsible Party or the third party to whom it is disclosed or for the protection of the legitimate interests of the Data Subject. It may also be Processed if it complies with an obligation imposed by law or where it is necessary for the performance of a contract. The Processing of Special Personal Information or Personal Information of children generally requires consent, subject to certain limited exceptions.

c) Purpose specification

POPIA provides that Personal Information must be collected for a specific, explicitly defined and lawful purpose related to a function or activity of the Responsible Party. Subject to certain exceptions, Records of Personal Information must not be retained for longer than is necessary to achieve the purpose for which it was collected or subsequently Processed and must be destroyed or deleted once the Responsible Party is no longer authorised to retain the Record. Such exceptions include where (i) the retention is required or authorised by law, (ii) the Data Subject has consented to the retention, or (iii) the Personal Information is being retained for historical, statistical or research purposes.

d) Further Processing Limitation

POPIA provides that the further Processing of Personal Information must be in accordance with or compatible with the purpose for which the Personal Information was collected.

e) Information quality

A Responsible Party must take reasonably practicable steps to ensure that Personal Information is complete, accurate, not misleading and updated where necessary.

f) Openness

A Responsible Party is required to maintain the documentation of all Processing operations under its responsibility as required in terms of PAIA and must take reasonably practicable steps to ensure that the Data Subject is made aware of the Personal Information being collected, together with other stipulated information, subject to certain exceptions.

g) Security safeguards
